VAN CLEAVE MAKES ANSWER TO BRYAN

Declares That Important Planks of Denver Platform Assail Business Interests.

DENIES ANY HOSTILITY TOWARD LABOR UNIONS

Is Particularly Severe in His Criticism of the Guaranty Fund Plank.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16.—James W. Van Cleave, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, today issued an answer to a recent reply by William J. Bryan to an article by Mr. Van Cleave a few weeks ago which pointed out certain especial reasons why, according to Mr. Van Cleave, business men should vote against Mr. Bryan. Speaking today, he says for business men that the injunction, tariff and banking planks of the Denver platform assail the interests of every man in the country who is engaged in any sort of trade.

Attacks Platform.

"The falsity of the insinuation in the Denver platform that labor unions are outlawed," Mr. Van Cleave says, "is shown by the fact that their members continue in their regular employment on every working day in the year in every town in the United States. Every member of the Lincoln Typographical union at whose banquet he graphical union, at whose banquet he was a guest on the evening before his formal notification of nomination, could have told Mr. Bryan that there is not a vestige of truth in the pretense that a vestige of truth in the pretense that any act of congress or any ruling of any federal court ever forbade any labor union to organize, to ask such wages from employers as the union saw fit to ask, or to make any terms of employment which would be agreeable to both parties." He then asks:

Asks Pointed Question.

Asks Pointed Question.

"Does not Mr. Bryan as a lawyer and a public man know that his platform charges are false?"

He tells Mr. Levan that the National Association of Manufacturers, like the courts, has always recognized the rights of the unions to get any terms from employers in which amicable agreement could be gained, but that the association always opposed the intimidation and violence which, he says, have sometimes been practiced by some of the unions. "Does he personally favor the legalization of the boycott?" Mr. Van Cleave asks, and he adds that the country is interested in getting a plain, direct answer from Mr. Bryan on this point, and in getting it just as quickly as he can give it."

Speaking of the guaranty fund which

as he can give it."

Speaking of the guaranty fund which the Denver platform urges for the payment of depositors of insolvent national or state banks, Mr. Van Cleave asks:

Blow at Honest Banker. "Does not Mr. Bryan know that this vicious provision would penalize—the honest and careful banker for the bene-fit of the banker who is dishonest and reckless? Can he not see that this scheme would remove all the safeguards which our present laws have raised up against such olungers and grafters as agninst such plungers and grafters as have worked their way into the control of many of our banks, that it would or many of our banks, that it would immediately and immensely increase the number of such bankers and that it would precipitate an era of extravagance, wild speculation and corruption which would wreek our whole financial system? Is not Mr. Bryan aware that his wild cat banking scheme of 1998 his wild cat banking scheme of 1908 would bring chaos and ruin to the coun-try even quicker and in larger measure than his silver debasement of the currency of 1896 and 1900 would have brought it?"

PRINCE TURNS LABORER TO REDUCE OBESITY

BERLIN, Aug. 16.—Prince Eitel Friederich, second son of the emperor has decided that hard work and plenty of it is the best cure for his threatening obesity. At the present moment he is staying at his summer residence, Ingheim castle, near Charlottenburg, where from morning to night he engages in the most strengons labor. #### Dick, Slim, Tom and Dave Have Vacation

Old Dick and Slim and Tom and Dave

Old Dick and Slim and Tom and Dave have had a vacation—not a vacation is one of the process of the vacation—not a vacation is one of the process of the vacation—not a vacation is one of the process of the vacation—not a vacation is one of the future will be a swilt, smoke-less engines. In Now the passes of the future will be a swilt, smoke-less engines. In Now the process of the vacation was an advertage of the future will be a swilt, smoke-less engines. In Now the process of the vacation was an advertage of the future will be a swilt, smoke-less engines. In Now the process of the work of the gas the process of the work of the swoke of the swoke of the work of the swoke of the work of things that any horse would enjoy.

For forty-two days they enjoyed this, ecming back Saturday from their vacation. The rest and fresh air worked a change and they returned sleek and spirited and full of a new vigor.

Dick and Slim and Tom and Dave are ten or twelve years old, and it is doubtful if they over saw the woods before, at least not for that long at a time. For many years Tom and another horse drew the covered patrol wagon, then another wagon, an open one, was put on for night use, and another team secured to draw it, and the covered or closed wagon was used only in the day time, dividing Tom and his mate's labors. Many horses came and went in the former's time, but old Tom, as tough as hickory, withstood the hardships and put his running mates upon the shelf.

But the patrolmen say the little gray team that hauls the open wagon and its flotsam and jetsam at night is not only the most valuable, but the most reliable the city ever owned. They have seen three or four years' service without a vacation, while old Tom has been on five or six years.

Denny Sullivan, the big patrol driver, with his characteristic Irish wit, has named the wiry grays Dick and Slim, or Sleepy and Pokey, in ridicule of Lieutenaut Dick Shannon and Detective Harold Wilson. Tom's running mate he has refused to honor with a name because, he says, "he is not now, and never was, any good." Lieutenant Shannon and

SPRINGFIELD CITY IS AN ARMED CAMP

Rev. D. P. Roberts, today, to arm themselves and be prepared to defend their homes in the event of an outbreak here similar to that at Springfield.
"Arm yourselves and be men," he said.
"If a raging mob surrounds your home protect your household; and when the man whe would ruin your family and destroy your family steps across the threshold, let him step across the body of a dead man."

He declared that America is a cowardily nation which, with power to defy the world, refuses to grant protection to impocent and defenseloss people forty years removed from slavery, because of their color.

Talks with the congregation indicated that the negroes fear an outbreak in Chicago and are preparing for it. The chief.

KANKAKEE. Ill., Aug. 16.—Coroner O'Neill tomorrow will continue investigation of the fatal stabbing of Earl Nelson yesterday by a Chicago solder, while on his way to Springfield At the inquest last night, Arsen Arres and Elmer Osborn, both witnesses of the stabbing, said that they boarded the baggage car of the troop train with Nelson, intending to ride to Gilmsn, Ill. According to Arres, one of the solders, without provocation, struck Nelson in the back with a long knife or an instrument like a life, the blade being about fourteen inches long. Arres testified that the solder struck at him, but also said that he jumped off the moving train before the blow descended.

SULTAN OF RECORD NOW DEFEATS USURPER

TANGIER. Aug. 16.—A wireless dispatch received from Abdul Aziz, the sultan of record, announcing the victory of his troops over the troops under Mulai Hafid, the usurping sultan, in an engagement which was fought recently during the march toward Morocco City, states that the defeat of the enemy was complete. The losses of the adherents of Mulai Hafid are estimated at 300 killed and 500 wounded. An immense amount of booty was captured.

Abdul Aziz, at the head of a column, defeated the Pehama tribe, who were supporting Mulai Hafid, killing fifty of the tribesmen and taking 200 prisoners.

The tests in the gas producer at the government plant have shown that many fuels of such low grade as to be practically valueless for steam furnace purposes including slack coal, bone coal and lignite, may be economically converted into producer gas and may thus generate sufficient gas power to render them of high commercial value. In this way, lignite beds underlying from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 acres of public lands, heretofore supposed to have little or no commercial value, are shown to have a large value for power development. This is of importance to the west, and makes possible a great industrial development there,

ALFRED HENRY LEWIS ON "BLACK HAND" SYSTEM

The Black Hand owns from laws and maintains from discipline. He who would join must demonstrate his mettle. He proves his hardihood by killing some one whom the Black Hand points out—perhaps a member turned traitor, who has been sentenced to die. If no traitor be convenient, aspirants are set fighting each other with knives. Whatever the ordeal, should he who seeks Black Hand acceptance betray sluckness of stamina or weakness of heart, he is refused.

Deemed worthy, he is sworn to fidelity on crossed knives. By his oath he is bound to keep silent, or bear false witness, or fight the police, or kill a friend—even a father or a brother—at the behest of the chiefs of the society. To fall is to invite death, says an article in the August Broadway Magazine.

The criminal money made by the Black Hand is divided into three shares, called variously "full allowance," "half allowance," and sala or "small silce." The entered apprentice takes the "small silce." Advanced to the second grade, his share is the "half allowance." Upon becoming a chief, he succeeds to the "full allowance." There is a grand council; under its orders are subordinate groups. There are little chiefs and big chiefs. There is a treasurer; and, for those who are to die, a chaplain. For ignorant recruits, instructors in stabbing—artists in assassination—are provided. #### WOULD HAVE CASES DECIDED ON MERITS; NOT TECHNICALITIES

NEW YORK, August 16.—Courts of ap-eal will no longer decide civil or crimi-cerning the judicial procedure of courts of the United States. peal will no longer decide civil or criminal litigations brought before them on purely technical points, but will base their rulings on the merits of the case. If the recommendations of the committee of American Bar associations shall become law.

The committee was appointed by the association at its last annual meeting to draft proposed laws to prevent delay and unnecessary cost in lit atlan. Its report will be presented at the next annual meeting, to be held in Seattle from August 25 to 28.

It opens with a statement that the existing evil which seems most serious to the committee is the disposition in many jurisdictions to dispose of appeals or writs of errors, both in civil and criminal cases, upon technical grounds and not to decide them upon merits. In the judgment of the committee, the rule for deciding appeals and writs of error should not be based on reversible errors committed by the court below, but upon the merits as the case appears upon the record.

Continuing, the report calls attention to the merits as the case appears upon the record.

Continuing, the report calls attention to the fact that the lendency of the courts in common law cases is to costrue adherence to strict legal rules as the right of each party, and to reverse if there has been any infraction of these rules.

This makes the trial of a case a same, declared the committee, "in which the one wins who plays the most skilffully, the merits of the controversy having no part."

The unrestricted right to a writ of error in criminal cases is characterized by the committee as a flagrant abuse in judicial procedure.

The committee declares that the reforms in civil procedure which it recommends are not theoretical, but have been tried and adopted in England to the satisfaction of the bar and to the benefit of lituants.

"So far as reform to criminal procedure is concerned," says the report, "the grievance of which we complain has never existed in England, but the statutory provisions there are similar to those recommended by us."

The committee will submit the draft
